Dear Ms. Cornelius:

On behalf of the Samaritan Center Board and staff, I would like to thank you for your sponsorship in the 2003 Samaritan Center Ethics in Business Awards. Your generous support allows us to accomplish these important goals:

- To provide public recognition of 15 finalists and the five Award winners for their exemplary ethical standards, policies and practices and to encourage the practice of high ethical standards among businesses, nonprofit organizations and individuals in Central Texas.
- To create a unique educational experience for St. Edward's University students, for the nominees and for the community at large through quarterly ethics workshops by the four Award-winning organizations.
- To foster a year-round public dialogue on ethics to increase the emphasis on high ethical standards throughout the community.
- And to increase community awareness of mental health services provided by the Samaritan Center to those who can, and many who cannot afford them, and raise a small share of the funds required to be able to serve all clients. Almost half of the Center's clients cannot afford the full fee.

For those of you who attended the dinner, you heard Earl Maxwell share how his Samaritan Center Ethics in Business Award has provided a platform for him to speak out about ethics in business to hundreds of people in Central Texas, and thus raise public awareness. Jim Autry, our keynote speaker, inspired us with his poetry and words of wisdom on leadership and ethics.

The Samaritan Center Ethics in Business Awards have impacted the lives of all of us who were involved in the process by making us stop, think, and focus our attention on the heroes among us who display high ethical standards in their lives. While the Awards spotlighted the winners, there were no losers – every nominee is a credit to the goal of displaying the highest level of ethical standards.

Sincerely,

Robert Evans

Dear Patti:

Please accept this letter as our means of expressing our sincere appreciation of the time and effort you made in helping make the CBI fall conference a success. By many accounts, this year's event was the best CBI conference ever! Your contributions on the "Ethical Decision Making in News" session were instrumental in making the event a success! Thank you!

As CBI continues to strive for improvements in the conference, please contact me with any comments, questions or suggestions you may have concerning the event. As you may be aware, we are already in the planning stages for the NY conference, which will be held March 18 – 20 at the Roosevelt Hotel in NY. Information will be posted on the CBI e-mail list and on the web site. If you have suggestions for the NY conference, please let me know as soon as possible. The deadline for sessions is December 5, 2003.

Thank you again for the time and effort devoted to helping make this conference a valuable resource to the educational community!

Sincerely,

Dear Patti:

Thank you again for joining us yesterday to review the opportunities for improving Texas' system of delivering emergency information to the public via broadcast Emergency Alert System messages.

Texas broadcasters are looking forward to working with you and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to ensure all Texans can receive statewide or national emergency messages.

- Your leadership is critical to our success and I deeply appreciate your participation.

This is a copy of my letter to the Austin American-Statesman about an issue that I have. I lived in Austin for several years. Thank you – Dean

Dear Austin American-Statesman:

When I lived in Austin, channel 24 was the only station that offered real, live captioning on the local news. As a person with a significant hearing impairment, I need captions to follow the TV and movies. Live captioning is a godsend for local news; it's great. The captions arrive on my TV just a bit after the words are spoken and the captions will include the live, on-site camera feeds. Also, the non-scripted, impromptu words are captioned for the hearing impaired.

The other two Austin news stations "claim" they have "live" captioning. These two stations also accept sponsor/advertisement monies to pay for a service that is not rendered. They do not offer live captioning. They put only part of the paper script on caption lines; that is all. The script timing of these two stations is horrible. The work is pathetic and hearing impaired people all over time complain about this quality. The impromptu, live, unscripted information is omitted. They also don't include captions for the "on-site" feeds. It is a most unfortunate claim.

Please let all folks know that channel 24's news captioning quality is exemplary, provides a great community service and also, is performed honestly. I want to thank Channel 24 for their diligence in keeping this service over the past almost 15 years.

Sincerely,

Dean Olson

Dear Judy:

We would like to ask KVUE to join us as the Presenting TV Sponsor for our first Central, TX Tour de Cure event. The Tour de Cure cycling and fundraising event is scheduled to take place on Saturday & Sunday, May 22 & 23, 2004. There will be several distance options available to challenge all levels of riders and to encourage new cyclists to join us! The event will showcase a one and two-day ride from San Antonio to Austin. The American Diabetes Association's Tour de Cure event is the biggest cycling event for diabetes in the country, and the South/Central event is the only Tour de Cure event in Texas!

The American Diabetes Association is the nation's leading voluntary health organization supporting diabetes research, information and advocacy. Our mission is to prevent and cure diabetes, and to improve the lives of all people affected by diabetes.

To fulfill this mission, the American Diabetes Association funds research, publishes scientific findings, provides information and other services to people with diabetes, their families, health care professionals and the public, and advocates for scientific research and for the rights of people with diabetes.

We look forward to the opportunity of partnering with you and KVUE to reach our community members with diabetes and those at risk of diabetes through your generous support.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Smith,

It was a pleasure meeting with you Tuesday! I thoroughly enjoyed hearing about your experiences in News.

After speaking with you, I am even more confident that I would like to pursue a career in News. I will definitely use your advice and start looking at stations in smaller towns. I will also always remember to try and "humanize" every story I work on in the future. I agree that doing that is the best way to have the viewing audience remember the story because in one way or another, it has touched their lives.

Again, thank you for your assistance. I know your time is valuable and I appreciate you spending some of it with me. I will be in touch!

Dear Station Manager:

I urge you to strongly consider airing the new television series, "The Armed Citizen", on your television station. This new show dramatizes how law abiding citizens have defended themselves against criminal attack. According to national polls, 53 million American households own a firearm or plan to purchase one in the future. And at least 68 million households support the right of law abiding citizens to use firearms for self defense.

"The Armed Citizen" will bring new viewers to your station, my friends, family, and myself included.

Dear Ms. Smith:

On March 19th, seven Boy Scout Tiger Cubs and their parents had the pleasure of a guided tour of your studios by Mr. Thad Rosenfeld. It was a truly memorable experience for everyone.

Mr. Rosenfeld was the perfect host for our group – patient, gracious and informative. He deftly handled the Cub's inquiries, even though some were just a bit off track. Because he scheduled the tour at four p.m., the boys were able to see your team in action busily preparing the night's news. In fact, we were able to witness a live weather spot by Mark Murray reporting on thunderstorms approaching the area. They thought that was quite "cool."

Although six and seven year olds may be on the younger side of your optimum demographic, they are now fans of Channel 24!

Thank you for the wonderful opportunity to educate the boys about one of the year's most important lessons – communication. And please, let Thad know what a treat it was for all of us, young and old.

Sincerely,

Greg Pollock

Dear Patti:

On behalf of the other members of the CACS Board of Directors, as well as the staff, I would like to thank you for the outstanding contribution KVUE 24 has already made for Crime Stoppers in 2002.

We realize that this first quarter was very busy for KVUE 24. With sweeps, and a March primary election, as well as run-off races, for KVUE to sponsor Fight Back Austin for us was exceptional, but to participate in our Appreciation dinner honoring Joe Jerkins during the same period, truly goes far beyond the call of duty.

We really appreciate your outstanding commitment to Crime Stoppers and your generosity with your time and talents in support of our program. The tape that you and your staff prepared was extraordinary and it was the highlight of the evening. Please pass on our sincerest gratitude to all those involved. I know Joe was very touched by it and will treasure it.

Thank you again for all you do for Crime Stoppers.

Dear Judy,

On behalf of the Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center board and staff, I want to thank KVUE News for your generous gift of television promotion for Wildflower Walk 2002.

The Wildflower Walk received unprecedented promotional support and introduced the Wildflower Center, its mission and programs to a wide population. The Walk also gave the community an exciting, new opportunity to support the Center.

The Wildflower Center serves to conserve plant habitats, restore native plant communities, and integrate native plants into planned landscapes. Native plants play a significant role in our lives because they are the foundation of all life on earth. It is imperative that we protect and restore them.

Please find enclosed a Wildflower Walk t-shirt and program, mementos of the day and expression of our gratitude. Many, many thanks for your support – we truly appreciate our friends who share Mrs. Johnson's dream of restoring and preserving the land.

Sincerely yours,
